CEO's Message

Laura Gambino, MPA, CECD
Chief Executive Officer

WELCOME TO JULY 2023'S EDITION OF IN THE LOOP

Summertime is here.....

congratulations to all our students, teachers and providers for another successful year!!! This year has been challenging, enlightening and a year of growing and building together.

This year brought a focused effort and funding support from the American Recovery Plan Act (ARPA). The funding introduced a range of much needed financial incentives to assist and stabilize our Early Learning Educators and providers. The incentives for teachers and instructors are designed to support their retention and upskilling and continued commitment to the profession of early education. This support has helped our providers invest and support all the early educational efforts and inspire TEACHERS AND INSTRUCTORS to grow and learn! And our children and families gain from these efforts.

As we celebrate summer and reflect on this past school year, I'd like to take a moment to acknowledge our Board of Directors and our Board Chair, Alan Bergman, who govern and guide us here at ELC Brevard! Our provider representatives, Dee Helbig and James Box, who bring knowledge, experience and time to ELC Brevard. And I'd also like to recognize our leadership team who work hard each day in helping us move forward – Amaris Rosario, Harriet Paredes, Eneida Colon, Jodi Ammons, Paige Hoskins and Jeannie Williams. We truly are an amazing group!

And special SHOUT OUT to one very special member of our Professional Development team who authors this provider newsletter each month with patience, kindness and an unwavering commitment to telling our stories, Chinaka Grizzle! Thank you Chinaka for all your hard work and efforts each day.....

Happy Summer

As a reminder, the VPK staff person who will be administering the FAST using Star Early Literacy will need to have taken the required training prior to administering the assessment.

To complete the VPK FAST training requirements, participants will need to register in Renaissance-U (Ren-U) using the Ren-U Enrollment Guidance and complete one of the below courses that meet VPK FAST training requirements.

The below Ren-U courses meet VPK FAST training requirements:

- VPK Test Administrators Getting Started with FAST Star Early Literacy Assessment (English)
- VPK Test Administrators Getting Started with FAST Star Early Literacy Assessment (Spanish)

A certificate of completion is issued in Ren-U for participants upon completion. This certificate or an individual's Department of Children and Families (DCF) Child Care Training Transcript reflecting the Imported Course, Florida Assessment of Student Thinking (FAST) Star Early Literacy are both acceptable forms of documentation. Note, these courses do not have hours or CEUs.

Participants that have an existing Ren-U account should use the below instructions to access training.

1. To access Ren-U, login to the VPK Renaissance Testing Site or <https://www.renaissance-u.com/#/login> and enter the email address you used when registering and enter your password.

Monitoring & Compliance

2. Once logged in, click this link <https://www.renaissance-u.com/?KeyName=VPKFLCSPM>

3. A pop-up will appear on your screen and will display the Key Name as VPKFLCSPM. Click the blue Launch button.

4. Another pop-up will appear on your screen to confirm the new courses. Click the blue Course button. This will take you directly to the Courses page of Ren-U.

Participants that are new to Ren-U, should use the below instructions to create an account and access training.

Participants must carefully register by entering their information according to the below registration instructions for the course to be imported onto their DCF transcript upon course completion. Ren-U course records are received every Monday and sent to DCF. DCF imports are not automatic, and processing may take up to 2 weeks.

1. Click this link <https://www.renaissance-u.com/?KeyName=VPKFLCSPM> and complete the Sign- Up form by filling out all required fields.

2. In the First Name field, enter your name as it appears in your DCF profile.

3. In the Last Name field, enter your name as it appears in your DCF profile.

4. In the Email field, enter the email address used to login to your DCF profile.

5. In the Job Title field, enter VPK FAST Test Administrator.

6. In the Employee Number field, enter your DCF Student ID.

7. In the Location field, enter your early learning coalition.

8. Verify all required fields have been completed according to the above registrations instructions and click Sign Up.

9. Now you will be directed to the Ren-U Dashboard. Click on Your Library to access the courses.

If you need to update information in your Ren-U Profile you will need to complete this form. In the Product dropdown, select FAST/VPK/K-2 and include the following information: full name and email as they appear in both DCF and Ren-U profiles, DCF Student ID and your early learning coalition (ELC)-BREVARD. VPK Program administrators, teachers, staff and test administrators are encouraged but not required to complete the highly recommended courses listed below to support VPK FAST Star Early Literacy implementation.

The below Ren-U courses are highly recommended to support VPK FAST Star Early Literacy implementation:

·VPK FAST Star Early Literacy Training Course for Star Early Literacy Screening Data and Reports

·VPK FAST Star Early Literacy Training Course for Star Early Literacy for Planning Targeted Instruction

TEACHER OF THE MONTH

MRS. ANNTOINETTE URDANETA - COASTAL COMMUNITY SCHOOL

Ms. Cara Adams, the VPK Director from Coastal Community School emailed ELCB stating "I want to recognize and nominate Mrs. Anntoinette Urdaneta, for the coalition's Teacher of The Month feature... and of course we here at ELCB are happy to oblige, because we have so much respect for the amazing Mrs Anntoinette!!

Mrs. Anntoinette is fondly known as "Mrs U", she has a lifelong career in education, including homeschool and preschool. She is a dedicated, hard-working, and compassionate teacher.

Mrs. U has worked for Coastal Community School since 2018. She is a legend amongst our families, some of who have had multiple siblings graduate from her sweet class.

Mrs. U is passionate about teaching her students about the love of Jesus, in addition to all of the preschool standards, developmental milestones, targets, and student growth, it is her ministry that young children know Jesus.

Mrs. U is also a loyal friend, and supportive peer to her colleagues. She lifts them up in prayer and goes above and beyond duty when needed to help others.

Mrs. U is diligently focused on her own Professional Development, such is her intentionality in strengthening her craft. She attends compulsory and non compulsory courses, and she is also working towards her director certification. She truly shines, personally and professionally!

We are beyond grateful for Mrs. U in all her efforts and accomplishments. We are delighted to welcome her back for another year at Coastal Community School in the fall!

We want to recognize the amazing Teachers in your centers who have gone above and beyond.

Email your nominations with a photo and biography to

Improving Structure to Support Quality Interactions

November 22, 2022, by Sherilyn Crump

Can we talk about structure? When CLASS® entered my life, I was 20 years into my career in the field of early childhood education. What I remember most about that initial training, besides the nervousness about an impending reliability test, was a sense of relief. Structure, including state and program standards, curriculum, materials in the classroom, and approaches to childcare and pedagogy, had dominated my working hours. CLASS was a lot to learn, but for me, it was a breath of fresh air. Observing with CLASS meant I could set aside my obsession with all things structural, which encompassed my thoughts every time I walked into an early childhood classroom.

For me, though, focusing on the process, or what adults do within a program structure as defined by the CLASS dimensions, revealed an all too true reality. The classroom structure present in any given program has a strong influence on adults' interactions with the children in their care. While a thoughtful program structure may encourage rich adult-child interactions, many approaches to early childhood program delivery hinder an adult's ability to interact effectively.

STRUCTURAL APPROACHES THAT SUPPORT EFFECTIVE INTERACTIONS INCLUDE:

- Flexibility within predictable routines
- Less large group times
- Short small group times
- Ample free-choice times
- For very young children – individual schedules

STRUCTURES THAT MAY HINDER EFFECTIVE INTERACTIONS INCLUDE:

- Toddler routines in large groups, such as all in the bathroom, or washing hands, or brushing teeth.
- Long wait times in lines, meals, and transitions
- Curriculum delivered to fidelity that lacks flexibility for children's interests.
- Large group times, particularly those where adult talk dominates.
- Very young children forced into the same schedule.

We are often stuck with structural issues that are challenging or impossible to change. An example that comes to mind is building structure; the bathrooms, for instance, are down a school hallway. Or staffing may dictate the need to move the children in large groups. Sometimes, we are convinced it is easier to accomplish a routine with the entire group of toddlers so that the room will all nap or eat or play on the same schedule. It takes creativity, and adult buy-in to make structural changes.

Acknowledging the effect structure is having on the process is a significant first step. Making changes to program structures that support quality educator-child interactions takes being willing to stick to it for longer than a week, or even two weeks, to see meaningful results. Are you interested in improving the structure of your program?

SMALL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO AFFECT CHANGE

- In infant classrooms, allow children to eat and sleep on their own schedule. Change diapers on demand, rather than all at the same time.
- At toddler tooth brushing time, provide activities that keep children busy, and then bring one or two children at a time to the sink to brush.
- Ditch the calendar and weather at preschool large group time. Instead, gather for an interactive group meeting, story, or a fun dancing activity. Keep it short and upbeat and encourage a lot of child talk throughout.
- Analyze your CLASS data by times of the day. Do you notice trends in quality? Use your data to problem-solve structural changes to the daily routine.

Ready for long-term, meaningful change? Consider professional development opportunities for your classroom staff that blend the process of CLASS-based interactions with appropriate program structure.

Check out our online program, CDA (Child Development Associate) with CLASS. A basic understanding of the CLASS tool is integrated into course learning experiences, with an emphasis on positive relationships and interactions in early childhood education settings. CDA with CLASS is available at two levels: Pre-K and Infant-Toddler.

How to make Glow in the Dark Sensory Bottles
Here's what you'll need to create these bottles:

- Empty water bottles
- Water
- Baby oil or bath oil
- Glitter to match your colors
- Food coloring
- Glow Sticks

Fill your water bottles 4/5 of the way full with water. Then add some glitter and 5 drops of food coloring (if you choose). Add 1/4 cup of baby oil being sure to leave a little room at the top without any liquid so the bottles will shake nicely.

Get Book Smart!

We are thrilled to announce the launch of BookSmart - a digital library that offers free access to a wide range of books for children. This library, developed by Worldreader, is designed to foster a love of reading, promote literacy, and provide an enjoyable and educational experience. With BookSmart, children can explore books in English and Spanish, and access them from any device, making reading both accessible and convenient. Worldreader is constantly expanding the collection of books and they are committed to providing a diverse collection of books that caters to every child's interests and reading level.

A resource to support home reading for children and families, BookSmart is a low data-app, with the ability to download books for offline reading. The unique weekly book section comes with easy-to-use family engagement activities to set your families up for success.

BookSmart offers more than 1,000 books with the goal of supporting Pre-K through 8th-grade students to help ensure they are not left behind academically. BookSmart is the perfect resource for keeping children reading over the summer and throughout the school year.

BookSmart Quick Start Instructions:

To review the Florida Early Learning and Development Standards

During their first five years, young children undergo the most rapid & dramatic changes in terms of their Physical Development, Social & Emotional Development, Language Development, Cognition and Cognitive Development, than at any other time in their lives.

As Educators, we are responsible for feeding and nurturing their learning, growth and development.

In future editions of "In The Loop" we will be reviewing the Early Learning Developmental Standards as a means of refocusing us on Child Development and how best we can support that.

Calendar Dates July 2023

1st - 31st July 2023: National Watermelon Month

Summer is in full swing, and it's peak harvest month for watermelons. This healthy and nutritious fruit should be savored and enjoyed. Did you know that the entire watermelon is edible? The rind can be pickled and is also used in stir-fries. The seeds can be roasted and eaten as a snack, similar to pumpkin seeds.

17th - 23rd July 2023: Capture the Sunset Week

July evenings are just about the best time of all. A gentle breeze wafts through the warm air. The sun is putting on a dazzling display in shades of yellow, red, orange, and purple. Take some pictures to share with the kiddies in your classrooms and get them painting beautiful sunsets, or just mixing colors for the joy of it all!

Wednesday 12th July 2023:

National Different Colored Eyes Day

Celebrate the diversity of eye color. Wouldn't the world be boring, if everyone had the same color eyes? It's a great talking point in the classroom & an opportunity to celebrate the uniqueness of people.... especially those with different colored eyes!" Also recognizes the eye condition called Heterochromia, which occurs when folks have two different colors of eyes... how amazing!!!

Monday 17th July 2023: World Emoji Day

If you could use one emoji to express how you feel today, which one would it be? Humor, approval, applause, frustration, prayerfulness? . Your "Mission" is to see how many emojis you can embed in texts, emails, and other digital correspondence. In your classrooms, how can you use emojis to help your students express themselves? It's the digital age after all!!
